Workshop on immigrants' integration in new destination countries

Location: Cluj-Napoca, Romania,

Date: 10-11 of May 2018

Main organizer/venue: Romanian Center for Comparative Migration Studies, Babeş-Bolyai University

International migration is one of the most important processes changing Europe today. Especially in the context of the so called 'refugee crisis', questions related to the immigrant integration have (re)emerged on the European and national public agendas. In this event we bring together students, scholars and practitioners from the field of migration and integration for a two days' intensive workshop in Cluj-Napoca, one of the cities in Romania that attracts more immigrants every year. We propose an interdisciplinary applied approach to the study of migration and integration, and invite students, scholars and practitioners from different fields that have a connection to the phenomenon of migration and processes of immigrants' integration to apply.

The workshop will take place in Cluj-Napoca between the 10 and 11 of May 2018 and it will be hosted by the Romanian Center for Comparative Migration Studies (CSCM) at the College of Political, Administrative and Communication Sciences (FSPAC), Babeş-Bolyai University (UBB).
